

Case History #102

North America's premier waterproof vinyl flooring systems. Since 1974.

Project:

Cavanaugh's Inn at the Park
W. 303 No. River Road
Spokane, WA 99202

Date:

Fall 1993

Problem:

A three-terrace concrete deck over the kitchen and dining areas had been leaking for years. Numerous asphaltic patching attempts had not solved the problems. Artificial turf overtop compounded problems by keeping moisture on the surface. Severe ponding problems existed in the corners.

Duradek Solution:

DURADEK ULTRA (60 mil) Taupe. Perimeters were secured with "L" trim (used as a gum stop) and caulked with urethane sealant. Low areas were levelled with an acrylic modified topping mix to eliminate the puddling problem. A total of 3,500 sq. ft. of Duradek Ultra was applied to the entire area.

Applicating Contractor:

Job Notes:

Surrounded by suites and meeting rooms, the four year old deck needed to look classier than the existing urethane and artificial turf-coated concrete. Duradek was chosen as the best system to solve the leakage problems and improve the appearance.
