

CASE HISTORY # 117

PROJECT:
CHILLON RECEPTION CENTER
SPANISH FORK, UTAH

DATE:
APRIL 2011

North America's premier waterproof vinyl flooring systems. Since 1974

PROBLEM:

The Chillon Reception Center is a popular location for weddings and large events. They wanted to build a deck that would also act as a roof to the building entrance. The roof deck would be a high traffic area, and one of the first impressions people would have of the building. Having an easy-to-clean surface was imperative with the number of guests in formal attire. Duradek can be easily cleaned and ready for guests in no time.

DURADEK SOLUTION:

Duradek's Ultra Cork Natural was used to provide low maintenance waterproofing for this newly built deck. The color complimented the existing brick nicely, which was important since this area was often used by newly weds and their wedding party for photographs. This was a key factor in the owners decision when choosing Duradek Ultra Cork. The metal flashing along the brick and columns ensures the transitions are water tight and adds a nice touch of class .

JOB NOTES:

The shape of this roof deck was quite unusual, however Duradek can easily mould to unique shapes and the professional installers at Warburton's did an exceptional job.
